thereafter, running that afternoon and throughout Thursday, November 9, then concluding early the afternoon of Friday, November 10.

Leading industry officials and policymakers will be joining us to discuss current issues that are top of mind to the water sector, with an overriding focus on preserving and maximizing the use of our most precious resource—water.

We are particularly fortunate that our long-time allies at the Bureau of Reclamation (BOR) will again be partnering with us to host the traditional “15-minute meetings” between their leaders and representatives of your irrigation districts and water agencies. New this year, officials from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers will also be available for a limited number of “15-minute meetings.” (Details on how to schedule a 15 minute meeting with the BOR and Army Corps will be made available to registrants shortly.)

We look forward to seeing everyone in San Antonio!

A draft agenda is coming soon!
